YOUR MESSAGE BOARD

Attention Auction Rate Securities holders:

Certain auction rate securities (ARS) have become illiquid due to extraordinary market conditions. While your ARS is valued at par, that may not reflect actual market transactions, and there is no assurance that you could obtain par in a sale transaction. Also, we have valued certain of RBC's ARS holdings at less than par for financial reporting and regulatory capital purposes. Please contact your Financial Consultant for more information.

Whether it's garden catalogs or pre-season baseball, you can tell that spring is just around the corner. Before your calendar starts filling up with your favorite spring activities, schedule your appointment with your Financial Consultant and review your progress toward your investment goals.

ABOUT YOUR ACCOUNT - Securities in your account are protected up to $300,000 (cash up to $100,000) by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). RBC Capital Markets Corporation (RBC) has purchased an additional policy covering up to $99.5 million per SIPC qualified account, subject to a total maximum aggregate for RBC of $400 million. This protection applies to the physical loss or destruction of your securities, it does not apply to any decline in the market value of your securities. Other investments shown on your statement but not held at RBC may not be protected by the SIPC or private insurance policies purchased by RBC. For more details, please talk to your Financial Consultant, contact SIPC for a brochure by calling (202) 371-8300 or visit www.sipc.org.

All securities that we hold for you that are not registered in your name ("street name" securities) are commingled with identical securities being held for other clients. In the event that any such securities are "called" by the issuer, we will determine which clients' securities are redeemed using an impartial selection system, as required by Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) rules.

To report a lost or stolen VISA Gold® card, call 1-800-933-9946 or 1-877-486-3696. Questions regarding check activity, money funds balances and VISA Gold® card activity should be directed to Client Account Services at 1-800-933-9946.

A financial statement of this organization is available for your personal inspection at its offices, or a copy of it will be mailed upon your written request.

If you have an option account, each of the transaction confirmations that we sent you itemizes the commissions that you have paid. Upon request, we will also furnish to you a statement of the total option commissions paid by you for this calendar year.

ABOUT YOUR INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND ADVISORY RISK PROFILE - The Investment Objective noted on page 3 of this statement is specific to this account and should reflect your investment goals and the level of overall risk you are willing to assume in seeking returns for this account. The Advisory Risk Profile, also noted on page 3, if applicable, is applied broadly across specified advisory accounts held at RBC and should reflect the basis for the recommendation of an appropriate investment strategy designed to meet your objectives and financial needs as identified in your Risk Profile questionnaire. Please consult with your Financial Consultant promptly if the information shown below does not accurately reflect your objective or risk tolerance.

Investment Objective	Preservation of Principal/Income	Balanced/Conservative Growth	Growth	Aggressive Growth	Speculation

ABOUT YOUR STATEMENT - Statements are mailed monthly to clients who have transactions during the month that affect money balances and/or security positions. Statements are mailed quarterly to all other clients provided that their account contains a money or security balance. Please review these statements carefully, and keep them for your records. If you note any discrepancies in your money balance or security positions, or unauthorized phone number, or in writing at the address that appear on the front of your statement. In addition, you should reconfirm any oral communications with us in writing to further protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Your statement is intended to provide only a summary of activity in your account(s) for the statement period. The information provided on the statement includes, among other things, a snapshot of the value of your account(s), a summary of the income you received for the statement and year-to-date periods, contributions to traditional, Roth or other Individual Retirement Account(s), and transactions in mutual funds shares. The presentation of the value of your account(s) value, as well as changes in value, includes all deposits, withdrawals, and other changes in market value. It may also reflect a reduction in value as the result of the return of principal on certain fixed income securities. However, changes in the value of unpriced securities, special products, or accrued interest are not reflected.

If you have questions about your individual tax situation, please consult your tax advisor

The prices for most securities and certain securities transactions reported on this statement are obtained independent quotation services whose appraisal(s) are based on closing prices, bid-ask quotations or other sources. If you hold municipal revenue bonds, please be aware that the price you may receive on their sale is significantly from the price shown on your statement. Moreover, certain securities may have unique requirements. Certain securities prices may not be current as of the statement date, and certain adjustment holdings may not yet have been included. If you purchase and/or hold securities traded in a market outside United States and/or denominated in a currency other than United States dollars, the price of those securities converted into United States dollars for inclusion on your statement. The risks of adverse changes in the non-United States currencies relative to the United States dollar are borne by you; RBC does not hedge or mitigate such risks. While we obtain pricing and currency conversion information from sources that we believe reliable, RBC cannot guarantee the accuracy of the prices and currency conversion information that we state. You should always request a current valuation of your securities prior to making an investment or placing an order to buy or sell securities. Note that securities that are not actively traded have not been priced, are excluded from the total shown in your summary.

Your statement also includes a summary of the short- or long-term gain or loss from the sale of selected securities in non-retirement accounts. "Short-term" refers to securities held for one year or less; "long-term" may not be accurate for tax reporting or other purposes and may rely on information, such as the original cost for a security, that you or another source at your direction provided to RBC. Gain/loss information may also change in the value of certain fixed income and other securities that return or amortize principal over time.

If you have elected to receive interest on free credit balances maintained in your account, please be advised under Federal securities laws and the rules of FINRA, we are permitted to pay such interest only on balances as an incident of securities trading activities. We may use a free credit balance in our account in the course of business, subject to limitations of 17CFR Section 240.15c3-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. You demand, and fully-paid securities to which you are entitled, and/or any securities purchased in your loan entitled, and fully-paid securities to which you are entitled, and/or any securities purchased in your loan upon full payment of any indebtedness to us.

If this is a margin account and we maintain a special memorandum account for you, this is a combined statement both your general account and the special memorandum account maintained for you under Regulation T Federal Reserve system. The permanent record of the special memorandum account as required by Regulation T available for your inspection at your request. RBC reserves the right to limit margin purchases and short sales alter its margin requirements and due dates for house or other margin calls in accordance with the firm's gut market conditions and regulatory requirements.

The prices reported on your RBC statement for securities issued through or by a Direct Participation Program Estate Investment Trust, or Private Securities, including Hedge Funds are estimates. RBC does not calculate prices of these securities, and has not confirmed these prices or verified that they are determined correctly. RBC relies on independent quotation services or the management, trustee or general partner of the issuer securities to provide such prices. The prices may be based on independent appraisals, the book value of the assets, the prices paid or offered for the securities, or another method or basis (or a combination of any of these securities are illiquid, and do not trade in a public market. Consequently, the estimated value of the security (which is shown on your statement) may not equal the amount(s) that you receive if you attempt to sell investment. In some cases, accurate valuation information relating to these securities may not be available current or estimated price information on the estimated value of the securities, the source of the actual or estimated value of the securities, or the method by which the value was determined or estimated, please contact your Financial Consultant.

FINRA Public Disclosure Program - FINRA has made available to investors a Public Disclosure Pamphlet to information. To obtain a copy of the brochure, please contact FINRA at 1-800-289-9999 or visit their web www.finra.org.

ABOUT YOUR STATEMENT - Statements are mailed monthly to clients who have transactions during the month that affect money balances and/or security positions. Statements are mailed quarterly to all other clients provided that their account contains a money or security balance. Please review these statements carefully, and keep them for your records. If you note any discrepancies in your money balance or security positions, or unauthorized activity in your account, please report this to the Complex Director immediately via telephone at the phone number, or in writing at the address that appear on the front of your statement. In addition, you should reconfirm any oral communications with us in writing to further protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Your statement is intended to provide only a summary of activity in your account(s) for the statement period. The information provided on the statement includes, among other things, a snapshot of the value of your account(s), a summary of the income you received for the statement and year-to-date periods, contributions to traditional, Roth or other Individual Retirement Account(s), and transactions in mutual funds shares. The presentation of the value of your account(s) value, as well as changes in value, includes all deposits, withdrawals, and other changes in market value. It may also reflect a reduction in value as the result of the return of principal on certain fixed income securities. However, changes in the value of unpriced securities, special products, or accrued interest are not reflected.

If you have questions about your individual tax situation, please consult your tax advisor.

The prices for most securities and certain securities transactions reported on this statement are obtained independent quotation services whose appraisal(s) are based on closing prices, bid-ask quotations or other sources. In some cases, RBC calculates prices for certain securities using information from independent sources. If you hold municipal revenue bonds, please be aware that the price you may receive on their sale is significantly from the price shown on your statement. Moreover, certain securities may have unique requirements. Certain securities prices may not be current as of the statement date, and certain adjustments may not yet have been included. If you purchase and/or hold securities traded in a market outside the United States, and/or denominated in a currency other than United States dollars, the price of these securities converted into United States dollars for inclusion on your statement. The risks of adverse changes in the non-United States currencies relative to the United States dollar are borne by you. RBC does not hedge or mitigate such risks. While we obtain pricing and currency conversion information from sources that we believe reliable, RBC cannot guarantee the accuracy of the prices and currency conversion information that appear on your statement. You should always request a current valuation of your securities prior to making an investment or placing an order to buy or sell securities. Note that securities that are not actively traded have not been therefore, are excluded from the total shown in your summary.

Your statement also includes a summary of the short- or long-term gain or loss from the sale of selected securities in non-retirement accounts. "Short-term" refers to securities held for one year or less; "long-term" securities held more than one year. RBC provides gain/loss information as a service to its clients; the information may not be accurate for tax reporting or other purposes and may rely on information, such as the original cost for a security, that you or another source at your direction provided to RBC. Gain/loss information may also change in the value of certain fixed income and other securities that return or amortize principal over time.

If you have elected to receive interest on free credit balances maintained in your account, please be advised under federal securities laws and the rules of FINRA, we are permitted to pay such interest only on balances as an incidence of securities trading activities. We may use a free credit balance in our account in the course of business, subject to limitations of 17CFR Section 240.15c3-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Demand and receive from us during normal business hours the delivery of any free credit balances in your loan entitled, and fully-paid securities to which you are entitled, and/or any securities purchased in your loan upon full payment of any indebtedness to us.

If this is a margin account and we maintain a special memorandum account for you, this is a combined statement both your general account and the special memorandum account maintained for you under Regulation Federal Reserve system. ACTIVITY DETAIL

Realized gain/loss column includes fees and commissions. It does not include accrued interest.

Purchases, sales and other activity all represent an exchange of cash and/or money market funds for securities and, as such, do not represent deposits to or withdrawals from your account. Account value changes due to commissions, mark ups, mark downs and accrued interest are shown in the "Change in value of priced securities" line of the Account Value Summary.

* Information that appears in these columns may be based on information provided by you or at your direction. RBC has not verified such data. Please see "About Your Statement" on page 2 for further information.
